

Newsletter

When Women Rise,
Economies Rise

Association of Grassroots
Women
Entrepreneurs,
Bangladesh

Mousumi Islam
Founder

January 2026 was a month of intentional beginnings

January 2026 was a month of intentional beginnings. At AGWEB, we spent the start of the year reinforcing the foundation of women-led enterprises, from grassroots initiatives to established MSMEs.

Our mission this month was clear: Structure precedes scale. Rather than prioritizing visibility alone, we focused on organizational readiness, strategic alignment, and equipping our members to navigate regulatory landscapes and financial pressures with unwavering confidence.

THE VOICE

January Strategic Focus Areas

Institutional Strength	Streamlining internal coordination and member support mechanisms to ensure AGWEB operates as a high-performance engine for its members.
Compliance & Quality	Streamlining internal coordination and member support mechanisms to ensure AGWEB operates as a high-performance engine for its members.
Market Integration	Laying the groundwork for collective branding and strategic planning for upcoming exhibitions and buyer-partner linkages.
Advocacy & Positioning	Shifting the narrative: Positioning women entrepreneurs as vital economic contributors rather than passive beneficiaries in the national landscape.

Closing Note

Empowerment is not a slogan. It is the byproduct of preparation, access, discipline, and a collective voice.

AGWEB enters the remainder of 2026 committed to a singular truth: when we provide the right structure, women entrepreneurs don't just succeed—they soar.

Forward Outlook: February 2026

In February, we shift from preparation to presence. Our priorities will move decisively toward action and visibility:

- Market Activation: High-profile participation in trade exhibitions and fairs.
- Skill Mastery: Launching intensive, skill-based capacity-building sessions.
- Public-Private Synergy: Cementing partnerships with key financial and policy stakeholders.
- Tangible Growth: Converting January's preparation into measurable revenue and expansion for our members.